

INSTALLING AND PLAYING DUKE NUKEM

Each of the three Duke Nukem episodes has been shipped to you in a compressed format, specifically, using PKWare's ZIP format. This has been done to keep the many files organized, since each episode of Duke Nukem has over 55 separate files.

On the "Duke Nukem" disk(s) you will find these three files:

DUKEZIP1.EXE, DUKEZIP2.EXE, DUKEZIP3.EXE

(For those experienced with ZIP compression, these three files are "self-extracting" ZIP files, which means you don't need access to the PKUNZIP.EXE program to play these games.)

---

Installing Duke Nukem to Your Hard Disk

You should copy each of these files to your hard disk and type the name of the file to uncompress it. For example, make a directory on drive C:, such as "DUKE1". Then copy DUKEZIP1.EXE to your hard disk drive C:\DUKE1, change your DOS prompt to drive C:\DUKE1, and type "DUKEZIP1". This compressed game file will then uncompress into at least 55 unique game files, which might take a minute or two. Once the file is uncompressed you can type "DN1" to play the game!

This simple procedure should be followed for the other two compressed Duke Nukem files, DUKEZIP2.EXE and DUKEZIP3.EXE. You should make a unique directory for each of the three Duke Nukem episodes on your hard disk. For example, make directories on your hard disk with names such as "DUKE1", "DUKE2" and "DUKE3". Once all three episodes have been "uncompressed" you can erase the compressed files. To start any of the three games, type "DN1", "DN2" or "DN3" from within the appropriate hard disk directory.

---

Need Help?

If you are having any trouble with this procedure please call 1-800-852-5659 and ask for help from our staff. Please be at your computer, if possible, when you make this call. Thanks!

---

Have You Tried Commander Keen?

If you enjoy Duke Nukem be sure to try out Apogee's award winning Commander Keen, rated the number one game on a national software top ten list.

All three EGA/VGA full-screen scrolling episodes of hilarious, out-of-this-world adventure can be purchased for only $30 (plus $3 shipping). Or try episode one for just $3! Please send your order to Apogee Software · P.O. Box 476389 · Garland, TX 75047.

Only Apogee Software has 22 game designers working day and night (mostly night!) to bring you the best quality arcade/adventure/action games possible. Please help us by passing around the first volume of our games to your friends. Please do not share the subsequent sequels, since those volumes may only be distributed by Apogee Software. Thank you for your support.